

OVERTURE xii

ACT 1

Understanding and Evaluating Theatre 1

CHAPTER 1 • What Is Theatre? 2

- Theatre Is Fun 2
- Flying Fish and Dying Villains 2
- Defining Theatre 5
 - Ten Traits of Theatre 5
- Why We Value Theatre 13
- Exercises 15

CHAPTER 2 • Aristotle’s Guide to Pleasure 16

- The Three Unities of Theatre 17
 - The Unity of Action 18
 - The Unity of Time 18
 - The Unity of Place 19
 - To Unify or Not to Unify? 19
- The Six Elements of Theatre 20
 - Plot 20
 - Character 21
 - Thought 21
 - Diction 21
 - Music 23
 - Spectacle 24
 - Reviewing the Six Elements 25
- Exercises 26

CHAPTER 3 • Dramatic Genres 27

- Comedy 28
- Farce 29

Drama	30
Tragedy	32
Melodrama	33
Tragicomedy	35
Reviewing the Six Genres	35
Exercises	36

CHAPTER 4 • Theatrical Styles 37

Objective Reality	47
Realism	47
Theatricalism	50
Subjective Reality	54
Expressionism	55
Surrealism	59
Idealized Reality	66
Classicism	66
Romanticism	68
Identifying Theatrical Style	71
Exercise	73

CHAPTER 5 • Writing about Theatre 74

Reviewers and Critics	74
Scholars	77
Students	78
Another Set of Tools	80
Exercises	82

ACT 2

The Creative Process 83

CHAPTER 6 • The Playwright's Story 84

The Playwright's Process	84
The Creative Journey	85
Plot Structure	87
The Playwright's Technique	91
The Playwright's Tools	93
Dialogue	93
Stage Directions	94

Characters 95

Actions 96

The Playscript's Themes and Meaning 96

Exercises 97

CHAPTER 7 • Actors and Characters 98

What Actors Work With 100

Text 101

Self 105

Context 109

Where Actors Get Training 112

How Actors Get Work 114

What an Actor's Life Is Like 118

Exercise 120

CHAPTER 8 • The Director's Impact 121

Evolution of the Director 121

Duties of the Director 124

Selecting the Script 124

Researching the World of the Play 125

Analyzing the Script 126

Selecting the Key Collaborators 126

Conceptualizing the Production 127

Realizing the Conception in Sight and Sound 127

Casting the Roles 127

Rehearsing the Production 129

Being the Spiritual Leader 132

Cashing the Check! 133

Interpreter or Creator? 133

Exercise 134

CHAPTER 9 • The Designers' Vision 135

How Do Designers Communicate? 135

What Do Designers Do? 137

Select a Play to Design 137

Read and Analyze the Script 138

Research the World of the Play 138

Develop Initial Design Ideas 139

Collaborate in Developing the Production Concept 140

Prepare a First Draft of the Visual and Aural Designs 141

Solidify the Production Concept 142

Finalize the Designs 145
 Complete the Technical Drawings, Charts, and Plots 145
 Supervise the Realization of the Designs 148

Exercises 150

CHAPTER 10 • Putting It Together 151

The Context 151

Shakespeare's Play 152

Getting Started 155

The Director's Research and Analysis 155

The Designers' Research and Analysis 157

Sometimes a Great Notion 158

Back to the Drawing Board of Research 160

Conceptualizing the Production 161

Between Conferences 163

The Second Conference 164

Final Preparations 167

Realizing the Production 169

Technical and Dress Rehearsals 172

Another Opening, Another Show 174

Exercises 175

ACT 3

The Audience Joins In 177

CHAPTER 11 • Finding Theatre and Getting Tickets 178

Finding Out What's Playing 178

Direct Mail 179

Print Ads and Announcements 179

Radio and Television Ads and Announcements 181

Telemarketing 182

The Internet 184

Ticket Tips 185

Exercise 189

CHAPTER 12 • Take Your Seats, Please 191

When to Arrive 191

Deciding What to Wear 192

Before the Play Begins	193
During the Performance	199
Everybody Has a First Time	201
Exercises	202

CHAPTER 13 • The Curtain Rises 203

Public Spaces	203
Kinds of Theatres	206
Proscenium Arch Theatre	206
Arena Theatre	210
Thrust Theatre	214
Black Box Theatre	216
Found Space Theatre	220
Setting the Stage	223
The Five Kinds of Scenery	224
How Scenery Moves	227
Hybrid Scenery and Technological Innovations	228
Exercise	232

CHAPTER 14 • Backstage Revealed 233

What's It Look Like?	233
Who's Backstage?	236
Production Manager	237
Scenery	237
Properties	238
Costumes	239
Lighting	243
Sound	243
Stage Management	244
A Labor-Intensive Industry	247
Exercises	247

ACT 4

Theatre History 249

CHAPTER 15 • Theatre History 250

The Beginnings of Theatre—Prehistory	250
Greek Theatre	252
Roman Theatre	256

Theatre in the Middle Ages	257
Elizabethan Theatre	260
Renaissance Theatre in Italy	262
Baroque Court Theatre	268
The Early Modern Age	269
The Modern Age	271
The Future	272
Exercises	273

ACT 5Theatre in America Today 275CHAPTER 16 • Show Biz Is Big Biz 276

Theatre as a Commercial Enterprise	276
Some History	276
Commercial Theatre Today	277
Where Commercial Theatre Is Produced	280
Theatre as a Not-for-Profit Cultural Service	286
Sources of Contributed Income	289
Theatre as an Amateur Activity	291
Theatre as an Educational Experience	292
Theatre as Festival and Outdoor Drama	294
Exercises	296

CHAPTER 17 • Musical Theatre 298

How Did Musical Theatre Evolve?	298
Prehistory and Ancient Greek Drama	298
Opera	299
Operetta	299
Ballad Opera	301
Musical Comedy	301
The Musical	304
What Is Musical Theatre?	306
Why Is Musical Theatre an American Art Form?	308
The American Spirit	308
The Artistic and Ethnic Melting Pot	309
The Assembly-Line Approach to Creativity	309
Exercises	316

CURTAIN CALL 317

GLOSSARY 319

CREDITS 336

INDEX 338