

Contents

ABOUT THE AUTHOR xvi
PREFACE xvii

Part ONE A Culturally Relevant and Caring Teacher 1

CHAPTER 1	Why Multicultural Education?	2
	How Did I Become Interested in Multicultural Education?	2
	CASE STUDY: Did We Fail Rosemary?: Years Later	4
	Who Are We? Diversity in Our Nation and Schools	6
	National Enrollment in U.S. Public Schools and Two Examples, Dallas and Boston	7
	What Does It Mean to Be a Culturally Relevant Teacher?	9
	Culturally Relevant Teaching: Connecting to Student Knowledge	10
	Caring-Centered Multicultural Education	11
	Care Theory: The Power of a Caring-Centered Teacher	12
	Care Theory: Integration of Integrity and Identity	14
	CASE STUDY: Caswell County Training School, A Segregated Black School: An Example of the Care Theory	15
	The Sociocultural Theory of Learning: What's Culture Got to Do with Schooling?	17
	CASE STUDY: A Story to Live By: Teaching through Oral Tradition	18
	Education for Democracy: Schools as Laboratories of Democracy and Community	20
	Citizens of a Global Society	21
	Building a Trusting Community in the Classroom	22
	The Ethic of Critique	23
	CASE STUDY: Ethnic Collaboratives Fighting Oppression	25

Testing in a Caring, Socially Responsible School	26
CASE STUDY: Lauren Fails High-Stakes Tests	28
The Power of One Caring Teacher: The Story of John Leguizamo	31
Chapter Summary: Working Hard May Not Be Working Smart: Using the Caring-Centered Framework	33
Reflection Activities	34
CHAPTER 2 Why Is Culture Important?: The Power of Culture	35
Why Is Culture Important?	36
Culture Is All around Us	36
What Is Culture?	37
Culture: Understanding the Three Major Layers	39
Culture Identity	41
The Cultural Identity Continuum: Traditional, Bicultural, and Assimilationist	42
How Do Children Learn Culture?	43
Cultural Sequencing in Learning: How Babies Are Taught to Respond in Trackton	44
Cultural Sequencing in Learning: How Babies Are Taught to Respond in Roadville	45
Comparing Trackton and Roadville: Differences in the Socialization of Children	45
CASE STUDY: Cultural Socialization through Family Interactions	46
What Is U.S. American Culture?	47
Schools Transmit U.S. American Culture	50
CASE STUDY: Peter, Peter Pumpkin Eater	50
CASE STUDY: Historical Perspectives: Teaching Powerful Cultural Values	52
CASE STUDY: Cultural Knowledge: Students and Teachers May Differ	54
Culture Shapes Our Values and Behaviors That Arise from Those Values	55
CASE STUDY: Learning a Different Perspective from Preschoolers	55
Culture: Connections between Deep and Surface Levels	56
CASE STUDY: Origami: Sister Teaching Brother Cultural Values through Cultural Art	59
Cultural Values in Conflict	62
Walking the Tightrope between Stereotypes and Cultural Generalizations	63
How Can We Find Cultural Keys to Help Us Reach Others?	65
CASE STUDY: A Cultural Solution to Health	65
CASE STUDY: Food Means More Than Nutrition	66
How Culture Can Be Distorted in Schools	67
Understanding Culture: Influencing the Success of Your Instruction	70
Bilingualism and Multilingualism	72
Valuing Native Languages	73
CASE STUDY: Two Sisters: From Iraq to Nebraska	75
Chapter Summary	76
Reflection Activities	77

Part TWO *Confronting Prejudice in Ourselves and Our Schools:
The Challenge of Change* 79

CHAPTER 3 What Are Our Hidden Hurdles? 80

Hidden Biases 82

The Biggest Hurdle 82

Eliminating the Roots of Prejudice 83

Signs of Hidden Prejudice 83

Why Is It Sometimes Difficult to See Prejudice? 84

Can Prejudice Be Positive? 85

Stereotypes: Forms of Bias 86

Understanding Race: A Sociopolitical Construct 87

Origins of a Racial Taxonomy 88

 The Human Genome Project 89

 The Bell Curve: Biological Determinism 90

Defining Ethnicity 91

Various Forms of Racism 92

Classism and Sexism: Other Oppressive Social Practices 93

 CASE STUDY: Nickel and Dimed: Classism 93

 CASE STUDY: Food Insecurity 95

Classism and Sexism Impact Our Students 96

 CASE STUDY: Kristen Isn't Attending School 96

Sexism or Gender Bias: Implications in Schools 97

 CASE STUDY: Title IX: Wrestling with Gender Equity 99

Old-Fashioned and Modern Racism and Sexism 105

Park's Theory of Race Relations 108

 Do Race, Class, and Gender Matter Today? 109

Chapter Summary 110

Reflection Activities 111

CHAPTER 4 How Does It Feel to Be Discriminated Against? 113

Teacher Voices about Discrimination 114

Why Do We Discriminate? 118

White Teacher 120

Being Part of the Majority 121

Racial Identity Formation in European Americans 124

White Privilege 127

“Racial” Identity Formation in Culturally Diverse Young People 132

When Students from Ethnic Groups Challenge White Teachers	134
CASE STUDY: How Nine European American Teachers Dealt with Charges of Racism	135
Development of Intercultural Sensitivity	136
Ethnocentric Stages	138
Ethnorelative Stages	140
Chapter Summary	142
Reflection Activities	144
Twenty-Five Ways You Can Stop Racism, Sexism, Classism, and Homophobia	144

CHAPTER 5 Aren't Mary and Michael Too Young to Be Prejudiced? 146

How Children Learn Prejudice	146
Who Am I and Whom Should I Be Like?	147
Stages of Prejudice and Identity Development	148
Stage One: Curious of Others	148
Stage Two: Emotional Language	150
Stage Three: Rejection of Others	151
Stage Four: Prejudice Becomes Permanent	152
CASE STUDY: How Prejudice and Stereotypes Are Linked	152
An Antibias Curriculum	153
Dealing with Biases in Children	154
Helping Older Students Deal with Prejudice	156
Teaching about Discrimination and Stereotypes in the Classroom Curriculum: Vocabulary	158
Curriculum That May Reinforce Stereotypes: Christmas around the World	161
Using Antiracist Role Models: An Accurate Portrayal of Rosa Parks	163
White Antiracist Role Models	164
Who Are Our Antiracist Models	165
CASE STUDY: Leonard Covello: An Antiracist and Interculturalist	167
Homophobia: Sexual Orientation and Student Identity	169
CASE STUDY: Heidi's Story: A Powerful Force in a Catholic Archdiocese School District: A District Works to Eliminate Homophobia	171
Chapter Summary	172
Reflection Activities	174

CHAPTER 6 How Can I Look beneath the Surface for Prejudice in Schools? 176

Allport's Five Levels of Prejudice	177
Level One: Antilocution	177
Level Two: Avoidance	177
Level Three: Discrimination	177
Level Four: Physical Attack	178
Level Five: Genocide	178

Hidden Prejudice in Schools	180
Examples of the Five Levels of Prejudice Found in Schools	181
Level One: Antilocution	181
Level Two: Avoidance	182
Level Three: Discrimination	182
Level Four: Physical Attack	183
Level Five: Genocide	184
CASE STUDY: A High School English Class: Examples of Racism and Sexism in a Vocabulary Assignment	185
CASE STUDY: Prejudice Level Two—Avoidance: An Example in Schools: The Life of Martin Luther King, Jr.: Avoiding a Discussion of Institutional and Societal and Societal Prejudice	187
CASE STUDY: Discrimination and Physical Attack in Schools: The Lemon Grove Incident, 1931, and a Challenge to School Segregation	191
CASE STUDY: Prejudice Levels Two, Three, and Four—Native American Mascots and Logos: An Issue of Respect and Justice	194
CASE STUDY: Extermination: American Indian Education	201
How Prejudice Can Influence Teacher Confidence: Need for Self-Regulation of Bias	203
Chapter Summary	205
Reflection Activities	207

Part Three Multicultural Education: Framework and Principles 209

CHAPTER 7 What Is Caring-Centered Multicultural Education? 210

Moving from Multicultures to Caring-Centered Multicultural Education	211
What Are Some Misconceptions about Multicultural Education?	212
Cultural Deficit, Cultural Difference, and Cultural Congruence Perspectives	214
Adopting an Educational Framework: Why Is It Important?	215
Caring-Centered Multicultural Education: Equity in Education	216
Why Care Theory?	217
Sociocultural Theory of Cognitive Development	219
Education for Democracy	220
Caring-Centered Multicultural Education: A Definition	222
Teacher Voices about Cultural Mediation: Merry Merryfield Talks about Working with Somali Students	226
Social Justice and Care Theory: Can We Have One without the Other?	230
Fundamental Beliefs of Caring-Centered Multicultural Education	231
Analyzing Critical Differences between Four Teachers	240
The Assimilationist Teacher	240
The Human Relations Teacher	241

The Social Action Teacher	243
The Caring-Centered Multicultural Teacher	243
Comparison of the Four Styles of Teaching	245
Principles of Multicultural Education from a Caring Perspective	247
Chapter Summary	249
Reflection Activities	250
CHAPTER 8	What Does It Mean to Be a Reflective Teacher? 251
Reflective Teaching: Important in Caring-Centered Multicultural Education	251
Reflective Thinking	252
Major Themes in the Caring-Centered Multicultural Education Framework	255
Our Moral Commitment	256
The Culture of Schools	258
The Paradox of Equity: Conflicts with Democratic Ideals	260
Hot Topics for “Cool” (Reflective) Educators	264
Hot Topic One: The Use of “Appropriate” Vocabulary	264
Hot Topic Two: California’s Proposition 54, The Racial Privacy Initiative	266
Hot Topic Three: The Influence of Content Area Knowledge: Race	268
Linda Christiansen: A Teacher Who Combines Caring and Social Justice	276
A Foundation for Bilingual Education: Latino and Chinese American Activism	278
Bilingual Education Programs	279
Teaching the Whole Student	280
CASE STUDY: Dashedelle: Educating the Whole Person	281
What Are the Goals of Multicultural Education?	283
How One School Sends Out Positive Messages	286
Chapter Summary	287
Reflection Activities	288
Part FOUR	Creating a Caring and Culturally Meaningful Classroom 291
<hr/>
CHAPTER 9	How Do Students Learn a Second Language? 292
Learning Language	293
Second-Language Acquisition Development	295
Second-Language Acquisition Theories	298
Krashen Teaches a Lesson in Language Learning: Nervous Educators	299
CASE STUDY: Free Reading and Personal Interest: A Great Partnership	301
Teacher Voices about Language Development: Moises and His Many Successes	303
The Challenge: Moving from Conversational English to Academic English	305
Teaching in Content Areas: Sheltered English, SDAIE, and CALLA	308
How Long Does It Take Students to Acquire English?	310
Teacher Voices about Bilingual Education: Teaching Writing to Spanish Bilingual College Students	311
Suggestions from Professor Jones	313

Bilingual Education: Do We Need It?	314
Bilingual Education: What Is It?	315
Another Important Language Issue: Ebonics or Black English Vernacular	318
The Integration of Spanish and Latino Culture in Math and Science Education	321
The High School Math Classroom: Recommendations	322
CASE STUDY: A Bilingual/Bicultural Example in an Elementary Science Classroom	324
Chapter Summary	325
Reflection Activities	327

CHAPTER 10 What Is Culturally Relevant Teaching? 329

Why Is Culture Often Ignored in Schools?	330
Cultural Context and Everyday Learning	331
CASE STUDY: Paying a Debt and Literacy Development	332
CASE STUDY: Economic Survival and Math Skill Development	333
Cultural Context: A Vital Element of Teaching	334
CASE STUDY: An Example of the Power of Cultural Context: A Yup'ik Classroom	336
Culturally Relevant Teaching: A Definition	337
Zone of Proximal Development	339
Cultural Tools: Analogies, Proverbs, Similes, and Metaphors	341
Cultural Models: Movies in Our Minds	347
Math and the Comics: Connecting Abstract Mathematical Formulas with the Playground	350
Signifying and Deepening Literary Understanding	351
Culturally Relevant Programs	352
Funds of Knowledge: Teaching within a Holistic Orientation	352
The Algebra Project: "If We Can, We Should Do It"	356
Organic Reading and Writing: Teacher	358
Common Themes in the Three Holistic Educational Programs	359
Key Beliefs about Culture and the Learning Process	360
Key Curriculum Elements in Culturally Relevant Teaching	361
Chapter Summary	362
Reflection Activities	364

CHAPTER 11 How Can I Make the Curriculum Culturally Meaningful? 366

Culturally Relevant Education: Important Considerations	367
Collegial Dialogue	370
Personal Experiences of Students	372
Role Models	372
Culturally Grounded Stories and Songs	375
Language and Cultural Expressions	378
Multiple Perspectives	381
Formal or Traditional Subject Content	383
Community Issues-Centered Curriculum	387

Issue One: Teaching about Social Protest: Rosa Parks	389
Issue Two: Literacy and Humanity: Teaching about Malcolm X	393
Malcolm X: The Interconnections of Literacy and Civil Rights	394
Issue Three: Creating a Unit on Citizenship and Civil Rights Leadership	398
Issue Four: Fighting for the Neighborhood in the Mathematics Classroom: Carrying On the Tradition of Malcolm X and Carter Woodson	400
Using an Issues-Centered Approach to Teaching Science: Research Findings	402
Integrating the Three Important Aspects of Education: Caring, Justice, and Intercultural Communication	402
Chapter Summary	404
Reflection Activities	405

Part FIVE Personal Professional Development 407

CHAPTER 12 How Can I Remain Effective in My Teaching? 408

Introduction: Caring and Controversial Issues: September 11	408
Setting Goals and Knowing Where You Are Going	412
Meaningful Teaching	413
Collegial Discussions	414
Personal Reflection of Values and Beliefs	418
Meaningful Content Knowledge	419
Meaningful Practice	420
Purposeful Accountability	421
Important Principles for Educators	424
Teacher Learning	424
Student Learning	424
Intergroup Relations	424
School Governance, Organization, and Equity	425
Assessment	425
How Do High School Students Feel about Issues of Diversity and Equity?	426
Six Components for Implementation	427
Component One: Implementing Caring into Schools	429
Component Two: Review and Eliminate Prejudice and Discrimination	432
Component Three: Understand the Impact of Culture on Teaching and Learning	435
Component Four: Utilize Culturally Relevant Teaching	439
Component Five: Blend and Integrate Caring and Social Justice into Teaching and School Policies and Practices	440
Component Six: Design and Implement Classroom and School Change	441
Chapter Summary	443
Reflection Activities	444

Epilogue: A Letter to the Reader	447
Appendix	A-1
Teacher Resources	T-1
Glossary	G-1
References	R-1
Credits	C-1
Index	I-1