

1.13 SKETCH A PAGE

DIRECTIONS: Below are the elements you have to create a page. Of course the first step in designing any page is to make a dummy. Using the guidelines on Drawing a Dummy at the end of chapter 1, and these elements, sketch a dummy of a section front of this small, daily, broadsheet newspaper. Don't worry about making it perfect, just get your ideas on paper.

DAILY P1 BUDGET

Findings in last week's chemical spill released by local town officials. File photos accompany one 7-inch recap story and a 20-inch story. Map also available.

Local scientists report on declining fish in nearby waters. Action photo accompanies 30-inch story and sidebar.

Bill Clinton was a speaker at a local community college. Speaker photo accompanies 12-inch story.

Local church production of "Grease" opens tonight. Action photo accompanies 10-inch story.

STANDING MATERIAL

Weather, 3 inches

Index, 3 inches (one photo)

PHOTO CREDITS: Clinton by Bradley Wilson; "Grease" by Bradley Wilson; Fisher by Kelly Glasscock; Arrest by Bradley Wilson; Decontamination by Jeff Reeves; Tent wash by Bradley Wilson

GROUP WORK: Now, share your dummy with another person in your group. Have them evaluate it, making sure the instructions are clear regarding the placement of photos, captions, headlines and text.