
CONTENTS

List of Maps	xiii	The Dynamic Landscape	9
Preface	xv	A Mosaic of Climates	13
About the Authors	xix	Distinctive Plant Life	14
		A Land of Many Worlds	14
		Water	19
		Environment and History	21
		The World Before Europeans Came	24
PART ONE
PROLOGUE
1. CALIFORNIANS AND THEIR HISTORY: MYTHS AND REALITIES	2	3. THE NATIVE PEOPLES	25
California's Love Affair with History	2	The "Digger" Stereotype	25
The New Eden	3	Native Origins, Languages, and Populations	26
The Traditional View of California History	4	Economy: Foods	28
Reconsidering California History	5	Economy: Industry and Trade	31
2. THE NATURAL SETTING	9	Science, Ecology, and Agriculture	33
California, an Island World	9	Religion	34
		Politics and Society	35
		The Arts	39
		On the Eve of European Colonization	40

PART TWO

EUROPEANS AND INDIANS: THE CALIFORNIA
EXPERIENCE

4. ESTANISLAO'S REBELLION, 1829	45
5. EXPLORERS AND INDIANS	59
First Meetings	59
Discovery and Naming	59
Cabrillo's Voyage	61
Francis Drake in California	63
The Manila Galleon and Revived Exploration	67
Vizcaíno's Expedition	69
California Forsaken	71
Explorers and Indians: An Assessment	71
6. SPANISH CALIFORNIA	74
Imperial Problems and the Founding of Spanish California	74
FEATURE ESSAY
Junípero Serra: Apostle of California	76
The Founding of San Francisco	78
The Missions	80
Presidios and Pueblos	81
Economic Development, Labor, and Society	84
The European Conquest of Nature	86
Missions and the Acculturation of Indians	87
Early Indian Resistance: The San Diego and Colorado River Rebellions	89
Disease, Fugitives, and Horses	90

Spanish California on the Eve of Mexican Independence	94
--	----

PART THREE

THE PASTORAL ERA

7. THE BEAR FLAG REVOLT	99
8. MEXICAN CALIFORNIA, 1821–1848	113
Establishment of Mexican Government in California	114
Secularization of the Missions	116
The Gómez Farías Plan	117
Secularization Under Figueroa	118
Political Turmoil	119
The Hide-and-Tallow Trade	120
Rancho and Pueblo Society	122
FEATURE ESSAY
Rancho San Pedro: A Classic Spanish Land Grant	125
9. FOREIGN PENETRATION OF CALIFORNIA	130
The Russians in California	130
The Hide-and-Tallow Traders	131
The Mountain Men	133
Mavericks	135
Frontier Settlers	137
The Breakdown of Mexican Government	139
American Interest	140
John C. Frémont	142
The Prize of War	143
Culture in Spanish and Mexican California	145

 PART FOUR

GOLD AND THE AMERICANIZATION OF CALIFORNIA

10. DAME SHIRLEY: A YANKEE LADY IN THE CALIFORNIA MINES	151
11. THE NEW EL DORADO	165
The Great Discovery	165
Sources of La Bonanza	166
FEATURE ESSAY
Sam Brannan: Forty-Eighter	167
The Gold Rush of 1848	169
Spreading the News	170
By Sea to California	171
Crossing the Plains	172
Searching for La Bonanza	174
Mechanized Mining	175
Life in the Mines	176
Bonanza to Borrasca	178
Californios in the Mines	179
The Foreign Miners' Tax Law of 1850	181
"Diggers" in the Mines	181
Solving the "Indian Problem"	182
12. THE THIRTY-FIRST STATE	186
The Military Interregnum	186
The Constitution of 1849	187
Statehood	189
Early Political Rumbles: Broderick and Gwin	190
Building a State	192

Vigilante Justice: "Their Majesties the Mob"	193
The "Revolution" of 1856	194
A Cosmopolitan Society	196
Anti-Chinese Prejudice	198
African American Argonauts	199
Californios and the Land Grant Question	201
Pioneer Agriculture	202
Land Speculation on the Urban Frontier	204
FEATURE ESSAY
Tom Maguire: Frontier Impresario	205
Cultural Americanization	207

 PART FIVE

THE RAILROAD ERA

13. CONFRONTATION AT MUSSEL SLOUGH, 1880	213
14. THE COMING OF THE RAILROAD	230
Transportation Problems in Gold Rush California	230
Early Transcontinental Railroad Schemes	230
Pioneer Rail Lines	231
Theodore Judah, Visionary	231
The Founding of the Central Pacific Railroad	232
The Civil War and the Transcontinental Railway	234
The Central Pacific Besieged	234
The Pacific Railway Act of 1862	235

Local Subsidies and Mounting Opposition to the Central Pacific	236	Anti-Railroad Politics	271
Breaking Ground	237	The Constitution of 1879	272
Judah versus the Big Four	238	Chinese Exclusion	273
		Culture in the Railroad Era	273
FEATURE ESSAY
The Big Four: Villains or Heroes?	239
The Pacific Railway Act of 1864	242
Completing the Transcontinental Railway	243
The Big Four and the Emerging Rail System	245
The Southern Pacific Company	249
15. CALIFORNIA'S RAILWAY ERA: ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND SOCIAL UNREST	250
“The Terrible Seventies”	250
Urban Growth	250
San Francisco: From Instant City to Pacific Metropolis	252
Industrialization	253
Railroads and the Bonanza
Wheat Era	254
Fruit and Specialty-Crop Farming	256
FEATURE ESSAY
The University of California and the Beginning of Higher Education	257
Water Resources	260
The Assault on Nature and the Beginning of Environmental Concern	262
FEATURE ESSAY
John Muir and Early Wilderness Preservation	264
Social and Political Conflict	265
Early Labor Movements and the “Indispensable Enemy”	269
The Workingmen’s Party of California	270
		PART SIX
		CALIFORNIA AND THE NATION, 1880–1920
		FEATURE ESSAY
		Eadweard Muybridge: Photographer of the City	280
		16. SAN FRANCISCO'S BLIND BOSS	284
		17. BEGINNINGS OF MODERN CALIFORNIA	298
		Southern California	298
		Population: The “One Great Desideratum”	300
		The “Boom of the ’80s”	301
		The First Oil Boom	303
		Black Gold	304
		Fighting Against Monopoly	306
		Political Change in the 1890s	307
		The Free Harbor Fight and the Funding Bill	308
		Agrarian Revolt	309
		Populism in California	309
		The Urban Scene: Prelude to Progressivism	311
		Pre-Progressive Women	312
		FEATURE ESSAY
		Kaweah: The Quest for Utopia	313
		FEATURE ESSAY
		Anna Morrison Reed: “The California Girl”	316

18. PROGRESSIVE CALIFORNIA	321	FEATURE ESSAY
Abraham Ruef and the Union Labor Party	321	How Do You Say M-O-T-E-L? A California Original	369
Indictment and Trial	324	The Movies	371
The Lincoln-Roosevelt League	325	Agribusiness	374
Hiram Johnson and the Election of 1910	326	Farm Labor	376
Economic Regulation	327	Other Industries	377
Political Reform	328	The Decline of Organized Labor	377
Labor in Progressive California	331	Urban Rivalry and the Military	378
FEATURE ESSAY		A Changing Society	378
Jack London:		Religion	380
Sometime Socialist	333	FEATURE ESSAY
Fears of Radicalism	334	Robinson Jeffers:
The Criminal Syndicalism Act, 1919	336	Poet of the Coast	381
Race in Progressive California	336	Prohibition	383
Water for Cities: Hetch Hetchy and Owens Valley	340	One-Party Government	384
The End of an Era	341	21. THE DEPRESSION DECADE	387
Turn-of-the-Century California Culture	343	The Impact of the Depression	387
		The New Deal in California	389
		FEATURE ESSAY
		Dorothea Lange:
		The Photographer and the Migrant Mother	390
		Large-Scale Public Works	392
		The Central Valley Project	393
		The Revival of Labor	396
		The Open Shop in Los Angeles	398
		Agricultural Labor	399
		FEATURE ESSAY
		John Steinbeck:
		Galahad of the Long Valley	400
		Depression Politics	402
		The Sinclair Episode	402
		Merriam's "Pragmatic Conservatism"	404
		Utopian Schemes and the Pension Movement	405
		Olson's "New Deal for California"	406
PART SEVEN
<hr/>
CALIFORNIA BETWEEN THE WARS, 1920–1940
<hr/>
19. SUPER SISTER: AIMEE SEMPLE McPHERSON IN LOS ANGELES	349
20. PROSPERITY AND THE RISE OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA	362
Water and Power for Growth	362
California and the Automobile	365
FEATURE ESSAY
Henry E. Huntington and the "Big Red Cars"	366
Oil	368

The “Okies”	407	The New Hollywood	456
The Cultural Scene Between the Wars	408	FEATURE ESSAY Walt Disney: Last of the Movie “Moguls”	457
PART EIGHT
<hr/> WORLD WAR II AND POSTWAR EXPANSION <hr/>
22. A QUESTION OF LOYALTY	415	Postwar Politics and the Anticommunist Crusade	458
23. WORLD WAR II: THE BEGINNING OF A NEW ERA	431	Goodwin Knight Moves Left	460
California in World War II	432	California Culture in Transition	460
The Impact of Pearl Harbor	433	FEATURE ESSAY Jack Kerouac: King of the Beats	462
The Rise of the Aircraft Industry	434	PART NINE
Shipbuilding	435	<hr/> THE 1960s AND AFTER <hr/>
Other War Industries and Agriculture	436	25. PROLOGUES TO VIOLENCE: GENESIS OF A GHETTO	467
Science	437	26. DREAMS DEFERRED: THE 1960s	482
Women in the War	437	The Election of 1958	482
Removal of the Japanese Americans	439	The First Governor Brown	483
Consequences of the Evacuation	440	The California Water Plan	484
Community Problems	441	Civil Rights	487
Preparing for Peace	443	Reforms in Politics and Government	489
The Warren Administrations	444	Schools and Society	490
24. AMAZING GROWTH: CALIFORNIA AFTER WORLD WAR II	447	The Election of 1962	491
The Great Migration	447	The Politics of Confrontation	492
Postwar Economic Growth	448	FEATURE ESSAY César Chavez, Dolores Huerta, and “La Causa”: The Union as Social Movement	495
The Defense and Aerospace Industries	449	Students in Revolt	498
The Housing Boom	450	FEATURE ESSAY Eric Hoffer: Uncommon Common Man	500
Transportation	452	The 1960s in Retrospect	502
Education	454
Outdoor Recreation	456

27. ERAS OF LIMITS: REAGAN, BROWN, AND DEUKMEJIAN	504	Building a Regulatory Framework	547
The Rise of Ronald Reagan	504	Protecting Air Quality	547
Reagan in Power: The First Term	505	Water Pollution Control	549
The Second Reagan Administration	506	“Save the Bay”	550
The Second Governor Brown	508	The Limits of Regional Planning: The Coast and Lake Tahoe	552
The Election of 1974	510	FEATURE ESSAY
New Blood	510	Ansel Adams:
Farm Labor	513	Californian	556
“Small is Beautiful”	514	Parks and Wilderness Areas	557
The Era of Possibilities and the Election of 1978	515	Farmland Preservation	558
The Tax Revolt of 1978	517	“Slow Growth”	560
Energy Crisis and Response	519	Mono Lake and the Public Trust Doctrine	560
In the Wake of Thirteen	521	The Wicked Ditch	562
Another Boom of the '80s	522	Reaction Against Environmentalism	563
High-Tech Revolution	524	The Legacy of Environmental Reform	565
The Arts	527	29. FIN DE SIÈCLE CALIFORNIA	567
FEATURE ESSAY		Recession in the 1990s	567
Jefe Rojas:		Transportation	569
The Vaqueros' Homer	529	Recession-Era Politics	569
Cultural Maturity and Diversity	531	Budget Woes	574
		The Election of 1994	576
		Another Energy Crisis	578
		The New Economy	579
		Education	581
		The Republican “Wipeout”	583
		30. CALIFORNIA CONFRONTS THE NEW MILLENIUM	586
		A New Century, a New Census	586
		New Century, Old Politics	590
		Millennial Economics	590
		A Second Davis Term . . . Almost	594
		The “Governator”	595
		Another Great Recession	598
PART TEN
ENVIRONMENT AND SOCIETY: CRISIS IN THE MOST POPULOUS STATE
28. CALIFORNIA: EDEN OR WASTELAND?	539
The “Not so Golden State”	539
Twentieth-Century Conservation	541
From Conservation to Environmentalism: The 1960s	542
The Peripheral Canal	544

Budget Crises	600	GLOSSARY	609
Too Many Cars?	602
Education	603	SUGGESTED READINGS	611
A Global Economy	605
Another Governor, Another Census	606	INDEX	641